Journal of Elections, Public Opinion and Parties
(formerly British Elections and Parties Review)

Table of Contents
Vol. 15, 2005

Special Issue Editors:
Geoffrey Evans, Oxford University
Justin Fisher, Brunel University
Roger Scully, University of Wales, Aberystwyth
Christopher Wlezien, Oxford University

Issue 1

Elisabeth Ivarsflaten, “Threatened by Diversity: Why Restrictive Asylum and Immigration Policies Appeal to Western Europeans”
Sara Binzer Hobolt, “When Europe Matters: The Impact of Salience on Voting Behavior in EU Referendums”
Jane Green, “Conservative Party Rationality: Learning the Lessons from the Last Election for the Next”

Issue 2

Larry LeDuc, “What can Comparative Research tell us about Future European Referendums?”
Maria Sobolewska, “Ethnic Agenda: The Relevance of Political Attitudes to Party Choice”
Eva Anduiza-Perea, “Campaign Effects in the 2000 Spanish General Election”
Rob Johns, “One Size Doesn’t Fit All: Selecting Response Scales for BES Attitude Items”

Plus “Elections and Polls in 2004,” compiled by Colin Rallings and Michael Thrasher