Copyright It is a condition of the publication that authors vest or license copyright in their articles, including abstracts, in Taylor & Francis Group Ltd. This enables us to ensure full copyright protection and to disseminate the article, and the journal, to the widest possible readership in print and electronic formats as appropriate. Authors may, of course, use the material elsewhere after publication providing that prior permission is obtained from Taylor & Francis Group Ltd. Authors are themselves responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce copyright material from other sources.

Ethical review The Editors and Publisher support the principles of the Declaration of Helsinki, and expect that the authors of papers submitted to the Journal will have obtained ethical consent and followed those legal and regulatory requirements for human experimentation with drugs, including informed consent, according to procedures which apply in their institution and country.

Authority and responsibility The intellectual content of the paper is the responsibility of the authors. The Editors and the Publisher accept no responsibility for opinions and statements of authors. While every effort will be made by the Editors and Publisher to avoid inaccurate and misleading data, they accept no liability whatsoever for the consequences of wrong information. The authors agree to keep the Editors and Publisher fully and effectually indemnified against any liability or claims that may arise out of the publication of inaccurate and/or misleading data.

Submission of manuscripts Articles will be published in the following classifications: Original research articles, Reviews, and Letters to the Editors. Authors should submit three copies of their manuscript and three sets of original illustrations and retain one copy for reference. The manuscript should clearly designate one author as correspondent to whom proofs will also be sent, and the full postal address, telephone number, facsimile number and e-mail address, where available, of the individual should be given. Manuscripts may be submitted on 3½ inch disk using any standard program, but hard copies of the manuscript are always required. Disk submission instructions are given at the end of each issue of the Journal.

Presentation Manuscripts should be typed, double-spaced on one side of A4 size paper. It is suggested that reviews should be up to 6000 words long, with no more than 50 references and 12 figures. Papers should be structured into headed sections and must include an Abstract. Each section should begin on a new sheet. Other subsection headings within the main headings may be used but should be limited.

The first page should include: title, first and last name of the authors and their affiliations, short title (no more than 20 letters), key words (5-8), and the address for correspondence, including telephone, facsimile and e-mail numbers.

Abstract The abstract should not exceed 200 words.

Style Abbreviations and symbols must be standard and SI units used throughout. Statistical analyses must explain the methods used. References to drugs should be made by their approved, not proprietary names, and the source of any new or experimental preparations should be given. The use of footnotes is not permitted. Single quotation marks should be used and words to be italicized should be underlined.

The Editors reserve the right to alter the manuscripts whenever necessary to make them conform to the stylistic and bibliographic conventions of the Journal.

Literature cited References should follow the CBE Citation & Sequence format. Only works actually cited in the text should be included in the references. Indicate in the text with arabic numbers inside square brackets. Spelling in the reference list should follow the original. References should then be listed in numerical order at the end of the article. Examples are provided as follows:

Acknowledgements The scientific and material contributions of others to the work should be acknowledged, with their written permission. Any permission for reproduction of published material must be acknowledged.

Illustrations All illustrations (including photographs, graphs and diagrams) should be referred to as Figures and their position indicated in the text (e.g. Figure 3). Each should be submitted on a separate sheet of paper, numbered on the back with Figure number (Arabic numerals) and the title of the paper. The captions of all figures should be submitted on a separate sheet, should include keys to symbols, and should make interpretation possible without reference to the text. Figures should ideally be professionally drawn and designed with the format of the journal in mind and should be capable of reduction.

Tables Tables should be submitted on separate sheets, numbered in roman numerals, and their position indicated in the text (e.g., Table I). Each table should have a short, self-explanatory title. Vertical rules should not be used to separate columns. Units should appear in parentheses in the column heading but not in the body of the table. Any explanatory notes should be given as a footnote at the bottom of the table.

Proofs Proofs will be sent by email to the author nominated for correspondence. Proofs are supplied for checking and making essential typographical corrections, not for general revision or alteration. Proofs must be returned (by mail or fax) within 48 hours of receipt.

Early Electronic Offprints Corresponding authors can now receive their article by email as a complete PDF. This allows the author to print up to 50 copies, free of charge, and disseminate them to colleagues. In many cases this facility will be available up to two weeks prior to publication. Alternatively, corresponding authors may receive 50 print offprints. A copy of the journal will be sent by post to all corresponding authors after publication. Additional copies of the journal can be purchased at the author’s preferential rate of £15.00/$25.00 per copy.
