

The World Journal of Biological Psychiatry

Instructions to Authors

The aim of The World Journal of Biological Psychiatry is to increase the worldwide communication of knowledge in clinical and basic research on biological psychiatry. The composition of The World Journal of Biological Psychiatry, with its diverse categories that allow communication of a great variety of information, ensures that it is of interest to a wide range of readers. It offers the opportunity to educate (through critical review papers), to publish original work and observations (original papers and case reports), and to express personal opinions (Viewpoints/Letters to the Editor). The World Journal of Biological Psychiatry is thus an extremely important medium in the field of biological psychiatry all over the world.

Manuscripts must be written in standard and grammatical English and should present new results as well as be of scientific value. Contributions will be considered for the following categories:

- Editorials
- Reviews/Mini-reviews
- Original investigations/Summaries of original research
- Brief reports
- Viewpoints
- Case reports/Case series
- Letters to the editors
- Book reviews
- Invitations/Announcements

The World Journal of Biological Psychiatry's Manuscript Central, web-based manuscript submission and handling system, is now available. Please submit all manuscripts online via Journal's manuscript Central site that is accessible via the Journal's home page: <http://www.tandf.no/wjbp>

Click on "online submission" which directs you to Manuscript Central's log in page. Here either create an account or enter an existing account to log in your "author centre" to upload manuscripts.

If you have difficulties in submitting your manuscript electronically, contact the World Journal of Biological Psychiatry's Editorial Office.

The receipt of the manuscript will be acknowledged by an e-mail which includes a manuscript ID number. Each manuscript will be assigned to at least two reviewers. The manuscript ID number should be quoted in all correspondence with the Chief Editor and Editorial Office.

Submit manuscript text as a Word-file and Figures as separate TIF or EPS format files. Use Times New Roman 12 point and double spacing throughout the manuscript. Use a clear system of headings to divide up and clarify the text, with not more than three grades of headings. The desired position of figures and tables should be indicated in the manuscript.. Submission of a manuscript implies: that the work described has not been published before (except in the form of an abstract or as part of a published lecture, review or thesis); that it is not under consideration for publication anywhere else; that its publication has been approved by all co-authors, if any, as well as by responsible authorities - tacitly or explicitly - at the institute where the work has been carried out.

Manuscripts submitted for publication must contain a statement to the effect that all human studies have been approved by the appropriate ethics committee and have therefore been performed in accordance with the ethical standards laid down in the 1964 Declaration of Helsinki. It should also be stated clearly in the text that all persons gave their informed consent prior to their inclusion in the study. Details that might disclose the identity of the subjects under study should be omitted.

Reports of animal experiments must state that the Principles of laboratory animal care (NIH publication No. 86-23, revised 1985) were followed, as well as specific national laws (e.g., the current version of the German Law on the Protection of Animals) where applicable.

The editors reserve the right to reject manuscripts that do not comply with the above-mentioned requirements. The author will be held responsible for false statements or for failure to fulfil the above-mentioned requirements.

Manuscript specifications

1. The manuscript text file shall contain a title page. On the title page the following shall be stated: The title of the article, which should be concise but informative. A short title not exceeding 40 letters and spaces. The full names, affiliations and addresses of all the contributors, and e-mail address, telephone number and fax number for the corresponding author. The title page should also include details of the number of words, figures, and tables.
2. Each article must include a short Abstract of the essential results (not exceeding 200 words).
3. Key words. Up to five key words should be inserted below the abstract. Use terms from the Medical Subject Headings list from Index Medicus.
4. References. All references cited in the text are to be listed (double-spaced) at the end of the paper in alphabetical order under the name of the first author. If there are more than six authors, list the first six authors and use 'et al.' Articles 'in press' may be included, but must state the journal that has accepted them. Personal communications should be avoided. Journal titles should be abbreviated according to Index Medicus.

Citations in the text should be by author and date in parentheses. If there are two authors, both should be named (e.g., Agar and Douglas 1955); if an article with more than two authors is cited, only the first author's name plus 'et al.' need be given (e.g., Komor et al. 1979); if there is more than one reference by the same author or team of authors in the same year, then a, b, c, etc., should be added to the year, both in the text and the list of references. When styling references, the following examples should be followed:

Brain WR. 1958. The physiological basis of consciousness. A critical review. Brain 81: 426-455.

Kuhlenbeck H. 1954. The human diencephalon. A summary of development, structure, function and pathology. Basel: Karger.

Teuber HL. 1964. The riddle of frontal lobe function in man. In: Warren T, Akert CH, editors. The frontal and granular cortex and behavior. New York: McGraw-Hill, pp 252-271.

5. Tables should be on separate pages and numbered consecutively with Arabic numbers. All tables should include a brief descriptive caption.
6. Figures. All illustrations, whether photographs, graphs or diagrams, should be numbered consecutively with Arabic numerals and submitted on separate sheets. Each illustration should be referred to in the text as 'Figure 1', 'Figures 1-4', etc. The figures should have a short title followed by a concise description. All abbreviations and symbols appearing in the figure must be explained in the legend. Remarks such as 'for explanation (or details) see text' should be avoided. Each figure should have a legend containing sufficient information to render the figure intelligible without reference to the text. If a figure has been published previously, acknowledge the original source and submit written permission from the copyright holder to reproduce it. If photographs of persons are used, either the subjects must not be identifiable or their written permission to use the photographs must accompany the manuscript. Figures can be uploaded as separate files in TIFF format.

7. Copyright. It is a condition of publication that authors vest copyright in their articles, including abstracts, in Taylor & Francis Group Ltd. This enables us to ensure full copyright protection and to disseminate the article, and the journal, to the widest possible readership in print and electronic formats as appropriate. Authors may, of course, use the material elsewhere after publication providing that prior permission is obtained from Taylor & Francis Group Ltd. Authors are themselves responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce copyright material from other sources. To view the 'Copyright Transfer Frequently Asked Questions' please visit www.tandf.co.uk/journals/copyright.asp.
8. Proofs and offprints. Proofs will be sent as a PDF file to the corresponding author's e-mail address unless otherwise requested. The corrected proof must be returned to the publisher within 3 days. Authors will be liable to pay for excessive alterations in the proof. Offprints can be ordered by filling out the form accompanying the proofs. The corresponding authors will be supplied with a free copy of the relevant issue.
