African Studies Journals from Routledge

WELCOME to the Routledge African Studies catalogue of journal and book titles.

Recent years have seen a growth in our African Studies programme as a whole, both by welcoming journals such as Journal of Eastern African Studies, African and Black Diaspora and Safundi, and also the addition of our co-publishing agreements with University of South Africa Press (UNISA) and NISC in South Africa.

In this catalogue we have included details of all these journals, as well as an extended range of related titles encompassing subject areas from Ethnicity, the Commonwealth, Development, Human Rights, Literature and many more exciting themes.

We hope that you enjoy browsing the catalogue. We would be delighted to receive your feedback, general comments and suggestions for our list. Proposals for new journals are always welcome. Below are contacts in Journals Editorial and Marketing, as well as a Books contact should you have any questions on the respective lists.

African and Black Diaspora

Editors: Fasil Demissie, DePaul University, USA, Sandra Jackson, DePaul University, USA and Abebe Zegeye, University of the Witwatersrand, South Africa

Volume 4, 2 issues per year
Print ISSN: 1752-8631, Online ISSN: 1752-864X

African and Black Diaspora is the first academic journal that directly addresses the needs of scholars working in the important field of African Diaspora studies. It seeks to advance the analytical and interrogative discourses that constitute this distinctive interdisciplinary study of the deterritorialised and transnational nature of the African and Black Diaspora. Beyond essentialist modes of theorizing, the journal locates the movement of African descended populations (geographical, cultural, social, political and psychological) in the context of globalized and transnational spaces by emphasizing the centrality of African and Black Diaspora.

African Identities

Editors: Abebe Zegeye, WISER, South Africa and Pal Ahluwalia, The University of South Australia, Australia

Volume 9, 4 issues per year
Print ISSN: 1472-5843, Online ISSN: 1472-5851

African Identities provides a critical forum for the examination of African and diasporic expressions, representations and identities. The aim of this journal is to open up various horizons in the field: to encourage the development of theory and practice in a wider spread of disciplinary approaches; to promote conceptual innovation and to provide a venue for the entry of new perspectives.

African Security

Editor-in-Chief: James J. Hentz, Virginia Military Institute, USA
Co-Editor: Ian Taylor, University of St. Andrews, UK

Volume 4, 4 Issues per year
Print ISSN: 1939-2206, Online ISSN: 1939-2214

African Security is dedicated to the exploration of fresh approaches to understanding Africa's conflicts and security concerns. Publishing two issues per year, this journal investigates competing analytical approaches to understanding security while engaging in discussions of real world security issues in Africa. In particular, the journal seeks to investigate the myriad issues relating to conflict and security within and between African nations, not only from the more traditional approaches to security studies but also from more novel and innovative perspectives.

African Studies

Celebrating its 70th Anniversary in 2011

LISTED IN THE THOMSON REUTERS SOCIAL SCIENCES CITATION INDEX®

Editors: Bridget Kenny, Shireen Ally and Liz Gunner, all at University of the Witwatersrand, South Africa

Volume 70, 3 issues per year
Print ISSN: 0002-0184, Online ISSN: 1469-2872

Rooted in a long tradition of scholarship, African Studies provides an interdisciplinary forum for conceptual and empirical writing relevant to Africa, and that contributes to international dialogue and debate. The journal is edited from the University of the Witwatersrand in Johannesburg, South Africa, but draws on the commitment and expertise of an active editorial board, as well as a wide range of referees both within and beyond Southern Africa. While mirroring the character of local debate, the journal also aims to contribute to a broader and more international dialogue.

Azania: Archaeological Research in Africa

Editors: Kevin MacDonald, University College London, UK, Bertram Mapunda, University of Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, Peter Mitchell, University of Oxford, UK and Peter Robertshaw, California State University, San Bernardino, USA

Volume 46, 3 issues per year
Print ISSN: 0067-270X, Online ISSN: 1945-5534

Azania: Archaeological Research in Africa seeks to become the premier outlet for publishing work on all aspects of archaeological research in Africa, without restriction as to period or area. It publishes peer-reviewed papers and briefer research reports, as well as book and conference reviews. Papers may report on original fieldwork, develop and apply new methodologies, provide syntheses of key topics or debates, or address issues of current theoretical concern. Papers that place African archaeology within a broader comparative theoretical or methodological context, emphasise the connections between Africa and other parts of the world, or explore connections of history, theory and methodology with other disciplines (e.g. history, linguistics, genetics, etc.) are also welcome.

Journal of African Business

Editor: Kofi Q. Dadzie, Georgia State University, USA

Volume 12, 2 issues per year
ISSN Print 1522-8916, ISSN Online: 1522-9076

The Journal of African Business is the official journal of the International Academy of African Business and Development, the largest network of professionals committed to advancement of business development in African nations. This in-depth resource provides valuable insights into successful business techniques and strategies for the African business arena. The latest theoretical perspectives, cutting-edge research, and practical solutions to the problems of business managers, policymakers in government, and academicians, are comprehensively discussed. The journal focuses on all aspects that compare business issues of doing business with and within African nations, including one-country studies on African countries/regions and business practices.

Journal of African Cultural Studies

Editor: Chege Githiora, School of Oriental and African Studies, London, UK

Volume 23, 2 issues per year
Print ISSN: 1369-6815, Online ISSN: 1469-9346

The Journal of African Cultural Studies is an international journal providing a forum for perceptions of African culture from inside and outside Africa, with a special commitment to African scholarship. It focuses on dimensions of African culture, including African literatures both oral and written, performance arts, visual arts, music, the role of the media, the relationship between culture and power, as well as issues within such fields as popular culture in Africa, sociolinguistic topics of cultural interest, and culture and gender.

The journal is strongly interested in the languages of Africa as channels for the expression of their culture, although it no longer carries articles on African languages that are primarily linguistic in character.

The Journal of North African Studies

Publication of the American Institute for Maghrib Studies and the Centre of North African Studies

Editors: John P. Entelis, Middle East Studies Program, Fordham University, USA and George Joffé, Centre for International Studies, Cambridge University, UK

Volume 16, 4 issues per year
Print ISSN: 1362-9387, Online ISSN: 1743-9345

North Africa has rarely been treated as a cohesive area of study, even though historical and social links have always been strong, with most of its constituent countries having been part of the Ottoman Empire.

The Journal of North African Studies is a forum for scholars of and from the region. Its contents cover both country-based and regional themes which range from historical topics to sociological, anthropological, economic, diplomatic and other issues. It is the first academic journal in English to analyse the historic and current affairs of what has become an important and coherent region of the Mediterranean basin which is also linked to the Middle East and Africa.

Africa Education Review

Editor: Kuzvinetsa P. Dzvimbo, South Africa
Deputy-Editor: M. Letseka, University of South Africa, South Africa

Volume 8, 2 issues per year
Print ISSN: 1814-6627, Online ISSN: 1753-5921

Africa Education Review is a scholarly, peer-reviewed journal that seeks the submission of unpublished articles on current educational issues. It encourages debate on theory, policy and practice on a wide range of topics that represent a variety of disciplines, interdisciplinary, cross-disciplinary and transdisciplinary interests on international and global scale. The journal therefore welcomes contributions from associated disciplines including sociology, psychology and economics. What is of particular interest to the Journal are manuscripts that seek to contribute to the challenges and issues facing primary and secondary in general, and higher education on the African continent and in the global contexts in particular.

www.tandf.co.uk/journals/raer

African Historical Review

Editors: Greg Cuthbertson, University of South Africa, Paul Landau, University of Maryland, USA, Henriëtte Lubbe, University of South Africa and Russel Viljoen, University of South Africa

Volume 43, 2 issues per year
Print ISSN: 1753-2523, Online ISSN: 1753-2531

The African Historical Review has a long and distinguished history being the successor to Kleio: A Journal of Historical Studies from Africa, which was published by the Department of History at the University of South Africa (UNISA) for more than 35 years. The Review is transdisciplinary, responsive to theoretical developments in research relating to the continent of Africa and within fields closely linked to historical and heritage studies (including teaching) more generally. It welcomes contributions from both established and younger scholars on themes from or in Africa, and encourages innovative writing and research on a variety of topics and with an array of theoretical frameworks.

Education as Change

LISTED IN THE THOMSON REUTERS SOCIAL SCIENCES CITATION INDEX®

Editor: Elizabeth Henning, University Johannesburg, South Africa

Managing Editor: Katalin Morgan, University of Johannesburg, South Africa

Volume 15, 2 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1682-3206, Online ISSN: 1947-9417

Education as Change wishes to encourage international debate about change in schools and school communities, especially, but not only, schools in challenging contexts, such as inner cities and rural areas as well as special schools. We are also interested in research about charter schools and alternatives to traditional schooling, such as home schooling and open and distance learning (in schools, but not higher education). Classroom research, including inquiries into the learning process of children and youth in all phases of their school life, along with inquiries into teacher practice, and teacher professional development are also welcome. Although the journal is South African, we wish to broaden our scope to include global perspectives on the above.

English Studies in Africa

LISTED IN THE THOMSON REUTERS ARTS & HUMANITIES CITATION INDEX®

Editor: Michael Titlestad, University of the Witwatersrand, South Africa

Associate Editors: Sofia Kostelac and Ashlee Polatinsky, both at University of the Witwatersrand, South Africa

Volume 54, 2 issues per year

Print ISSN: 0013-8398, Online ISSN: 1943-8117

English Studies in Africa emphasizes, as its name attests, the study of world literature in English within African contexts, while also promoting the study of African literature worldwide. Since its founding in 1958 it has established a conduit between Anglo-American and Southern African literary studies, and this ethos persists, though in a revised form. Despite this commitment to its context, however, English Studies in Africa is unique in its willingness to publish articles on any literary, educational or language topic that the editors adjudge will be of interest to its diverse readership.

International Journal of African Renaissance Studies

Multi- Inter- and Transdisciplinarity

Editor: Shadrack B. O. Gutto, University of South Africa, South Africa

Volume 6, 2 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1818-6874, Online ISSN: 1753-7274

The International Journal of African Renaissance Studies aims to create a repository of scholarly work that represents high academic standards yet offers real solutions to Africa's challenges. In this way, we are committed to Africa's rebirth and re-positioning. A fundamental belief is that the transformation of Africa and Africans requires changes in the historically constructed global order. Africa's resources and heritages must be harnessed and strategically channelled to inform, map and fuel a conscious drive to realise the African Renaissance – starting from today.

Language Matters: Studies in the Languages of Africa

LISTED IN THE THOMSON REUTERS SOCIAL SCIENCES CITATION INDEX®

Editor: Lawrie A. Barnes, University of South Africa

Volume 42, 2 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1022-8195, Online ISSN: 1753-5395

In essence our purpose is to provide a journal of international standing with a unique African flavour which focuses on multilingualism in Africa. Although our general focus remains on multilingualism and related issues, we plan to focus on a different special theme annually. These themes may embrace a wide spectrum of language matters of current relevance in Southern Africa. We also endorse a multidisciplinary approach to the study of language and welcome contributions not only from sociolinguists, psycholinguists and the like, but also from educationalists, language practitioners, computer analysts and engineers anyone who has a genuine interest in and contribution to the study of language.

Muziki: Journal of Music Research in Africa

Editor: George T. King, University of South Africa

Volume 8, 2 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1812-5980, Online ISSN: 1753-593X

Research into the music of Africa has for many years been concentrated in the American and European diaspora. It has further been characterised by the same divisions as music research elsewhere, be they between ethnomusicologists and musicologists, or theorists and historians. Muziki: Journal of Music Research in Africa wishes to establish a unified African voice for African music research. Through its juxtaposition of the historical and the theoretical, the indigenous, the popular and the 'Western', it intends to reflect the diversity of African musics and the research that they inspire.

NISC-TAYLOR & FRANCIS CO-PUBLISHED TITLES

Taylor & Francis Group established a co-publishing agreement with NISC (Pty) Ltd of Grahamstown, South Africa to publish 10 academic research journals, starting in 2009. All the NISC journals are now widely available to purchase in international online and print, or in online-only editions via Taylor & Francis Group. Nine of the ten journals are ISI-ranked and all are fully accredited by the South African Department of Education. Five titles deal with the unique South African biological heritage, ranging from marine science to forestry, including Ostrich: Journal of African Ornithology, now in its 81st volume. Other titles are dedicated to music and language in African contexts and key health challenges such as AIDS and mental illness. Margaret Crampton, the Managing Director of NISC, said 'We see this as an excellent opportunity to raise the international profile of the NISC journals, further promoting access to African scholarship.'

Conflict, Security & Development

Editor: Dylan Hendrickson, King's College London, UK

Volume 11, 5 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1467-8802, Online ISSN: 1478-1174

Conflict, Security and Development bridges traditional development and security studies through its focus on cross-cutting policy agendas, and also establishes connections with related disciplines, including anthropology, political economy and regional studies. The journal fills this analytical gap with fresh, objective and intellectually provocative research and also offers a forum for the cross-fertilisation of ideas and for reasoned and rigorous debate between the academic and policy communities in the North and South.

Democratization

Editors: Jeffrey Haynes, London Metropolitan University, UK and Gordon Crawford, University of Leeds, UK

Volume 18, 6 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1351-0347, Online ISSN: 1743-890X

Democratization aims to promote a better understanding of democratization – defined as the way democratic norms, institutions and practices evolve and are disseminated both within and across national and cultural boundaries. While the focus is on democratization viewed as a process, the journal also builds on the enduring interest in democracy itself and its analysis. There is special reference to democratization in the developing world and in post-communist societies, but not to the exclusion of other relevant areas such as North America, Australasia, and the European Union and its member states.

Journal of Development Effectiveness

Publication of 3ie – International Initiative for Impact Evaluation

Managing Editor: Howard White, Executive Director of 3ie

Volume 3, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1943-9342, Online ISSN: 1943-9407

Journal of Development Effectiveness aims to support evidence-based policy making to enhance development effectiveness. It will do this by publishing high quality papers reporting evidence of the impact of projects, programs and policies in developing countries. Review papers covering a number of studies are particularly encouraged. The Journal does not subscribe to any one approach to impact evaluation, but requires that the techniques employed be rigorously applied, with a preference for studies which have been well contextualized with an appropriate use of mixed methods. The journal will also publish papers of a more conceptual nature related to impact evaluation, as well as papers covering practical aspects of conducting impact studies.

The Journal of Development Studies

LISTED IN THE THOMSON REUTERS SOCIAL SCIENCES CITATION INDEX®

Editors: Ken Shadlen, London School of Economics and Political Science, UK, Oliver Morrissey, University of Nottingham, UK, Richard Palmer-Jones, University of East Anglia, UK and Howard White, International Initiative for Impact Evaluation (3ie)

Volume 47, 12 issues per year

Print ISSN: 0022-0388, Online ISSN: 1743-9140

The Journal of Development Studies is the first and best known international journal in the area of development studies. Since its foundation in 1964, it has published many seminal articles on development and opened up many new areas of debate. We invite articles from across academic disciplines, but priority is given to papers which are:

- interdisciplinary
- provide critical tests, based on empirical work, of alternative theories, perspectives or schools of thought
- relevant to important issues in development economics, politics and policy.

Journal of Genocide Research

Senior Editor: Jürgen Zimmerer, University of Sheffield, UK

Editors: Cathie Carmichael, University of East Anglia, UK, Christian Gerlach, University of Bern, Switzerland, Simone Gigliotti, Victoria University of Wellington, New Zealand, Dirk Moses, University of Sydney, Australia and Dan Stone, Royal Holloway, University of London, UK

Volume 12, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1462-3528, Online ISSN: 1469-9494

Journal of Genocide Research promotes an interdisciplinary and comparative approach to the study of genocide. Genocide has reared its head numerous times throughout the twentieth century. Genocidal thought and action have found many opportunities to assault targeted groups and endanger their existence. These repeated attempts at annihilation pose some of the more perplexing questions of the modern age warranting systematic, scholarly investigation.

Journal of Genocide Research devotes itself exclusively to focusing on this phenomenon that promises to re-occur well into the twenty-first century.

Journal of Human Rights

Editor: Richard Hiskes, University of Connecticut, USA

Volume 10, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1475-4835, Online ISSN: 1475-4843

The Journal of Human Rights serves as an arena for the public discussion and scholarly analysis of human rights, broadly conceived. It seeks to broaden the study of human rights by fostering the critical re-examination of existing approaches to human rights, as well as to develop new perspectives on the theory and practice of human rights.

The Journal of Imperial and Commonwealth History

LISTED IN THE THOMSON REUTERS ARTS & HUMANITIES CITATION INDEX®

Editors: Stephen Howe, University of Bristol, UK and Philip Murphy, Institute of Commonwealth Studies, University of London, UK

Volume 39, 5 issues per year

Print ISSN: 0308-6534, Online ISSN: 1743-9329

The Journal of Imperial and Commonwealth History has established itself as an internationally respected forum for the presentation and discussion of recent research in the history of the British Empire and Commonwealth and in comparative European colonial experiences. Particular attention is given to imperial policy and rivalries; colonial rule and local response; the rise of nationalism; the process of decolonization and the transfer of power and institutions; the evolution of the Imperial and Commonwealth association in general; and the expansion and transformation of British culture. The journal also features a substantial review section of recent literature.

Journal of Intercultural Studies

Editors: Dr Tseen Khoo, Monash University, Australia and Dr Vince Marotta, Deakin University, Australia

Volume 32, 6 issues per year

Print ISSN: 0725-6868, Online ISSN: 1469-9540

Journal of Intercultural Studies showcases innovative scholarship about emerging cultural formations, intercultural negotiations and contemporary challenges to cultures and identities. It welcomes theoretically informed articles from diverse disciplines that contribute to the following discussions:

- Reconceptualising notions of nationhood, citizenship and racialisation;
- Questioning theories of diaspora, transnationalism, hybridity and 'border crossing' and their contextualised applications;
- Exploring the contemporary sociocultural formations of ethnicity, postcolonialism and indigeneity;
- Examining how past and contemporary key scholars can inform current thinking on cross-cultural knowledge, multiculturalism, race and cultural identity.

Journal of Postcolonial Writing

Formerly World Literature Written in English

Affiliated to the Postcolonial Studies Association UK

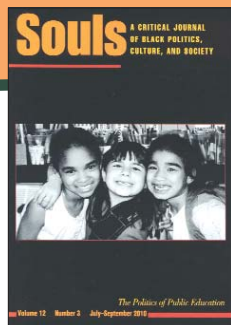

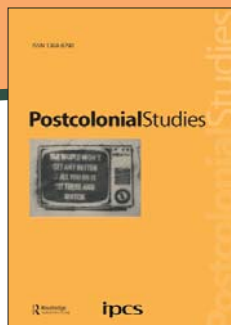

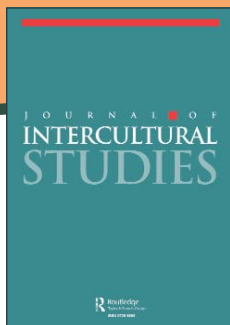

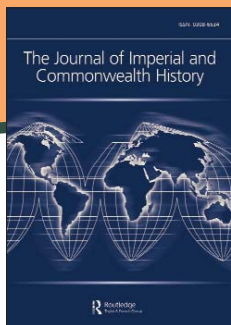

Editors: Janet Wilson and Chris Ringrose, both at University of Northampton, UK

Volume 47, 5 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1744-9855, Online ISSN: 1744-9863

Journal of Postcolonial Writing is devoted to the study of literature written in English and published throughout the world. In particular it aims to explore the interface between the postcolonial writing of the modern global era and the economic forces of production which increasingly commodify culture. The Journal of Postcolonial Writing interrogates assumptions underpinning postcolonial theory and its liberationist rhetoric by focussing upon the discursive practices informing contemporary writing and the impact of the global, the regional, and the local upon each other. Our concern is with the conditions under which a resistant 'global imagination' comes into being.

Postcolonial Studies

Journal of the Institute of Postcolonial Studies

London Editorial: Michael Dutton and Sanjay Seth, both at University of London, UK

Santa Cruz Editorial: Christopher Connery and Vanita Seth, both at University of California Santa Cruz, USA

Melbourne Editorial: David Bennett, John Cash, Ramaswami Harindranath, and Rachel Hughes, all at University of Melbourne, Australia

Volume 14, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1368-8790, Online ISSN: 1466-1888

Postcolonial Studies is the first journal specifically aimed at publishing work which explores the various facets – textual, figural, spatial, historical, political and economic – of the colonial encounter, and the ways in which this encounter shaped the West and non-West alike. A growing academic literature recognises that the colonial encounter was a seminal event in the history of both the West and the non-Western world, shaping culture and literature, politics and history. From being the provenance of the ‘area studies’ scholar, it has become the site of numerous investigations from many disciplines, as well as a theoretical perspective from which to view a variety of concerns.

The Round Table

The Commonwealth Journal of International Affairs

Editor: Venkat Iyer, University of Ulster, UK

Volume 100, 6 issues per year

Print ISSN: 0035-8533, Online ISSN: 1474-029X

Founded in 1910, The Round Table, Britain’s oldest international affairs journal, provides analysis and commentary on all aspects of international affairs. The journal is the major source for coverage of policy issues concerning the contemporary Commonwealth and its role in international affairs, with occasional articles on themes of historical interest. The Round Table has for many years been a repository of informed scholarship, opinion, and judgement regarding both international relations in general, and the Commonwealth in particular, with authorship and readership drawn from the worlds of government, business, finance and academe.

Slavery & Abolition

A Journal of Slave and Post-Slave Studies

LISTED IN THE THOMSON REUTERS ARTS & HUMANITIES CITATION INDEX®

Editor: Gad Heuman, University of Warwick, UK

Volume 32, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN: 0144-039X, Online ISSN: 1743-9523

Slavery & Abolition is the only journal devoted in its entirety to a discussion of the demographic, socio-economic, historical and psychological aspects of human bondage from the ancient period to the present. It is also concerned with the dismantling of the slave systems and with the legacy of slavery. The journal publishes research articles, comments, reflections and review articles. There are frequent special thematic issues and an important annual bibliographical supplement on slavery which provides the only comprehensive listing of books and articles in the field.

Social Identities

Editors: Pal Ahluwalia, University of California, San Diego, USA and University of South Australia and Toby Miller, University of California, Riverside, USA

Volume 17, 6 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1350-4630, Online ISSN: 1363-0296

Recent years have witnessed considerable worldwide changes concerning social identities such as race, nation and ethnicity, as well as the emergence of new forms of racism and nationalism as discriminatory exclusions. Social Identities aims to furnish an interdisciplinary and international focal point for theorizing issues at the interface of social identities. The journal is especially concerned to address these issues in the context of the transforming political economies and cultures of postmodern and postcolonial conditions. Social Identities is intended as a forum for contesting ideas and debates concerning the formations of, and transformations in, socially significant identities, their attendant forms of material exclusion and power, as well as the political and cultural possibilities opened up by these identifications.

Souls

A Critical Journal of Black Politics, Culture, and Society

Editor: Manning Marable, Columbia University, USA

Volume 13, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1099-9949, Online ISSN: 1548-3843

Souls: A Critical Journal of Black Politics, Culture, and Society is sponsored by the Institute for Research in African-American Studies at Columbia University. The journal maps the intellectual contours of the contemporary Black experience: the various ideological debates, politics, culture, and recent history of African American people. In the spirit of W. E. B. Du Bois, Souls presents creative and challenging interpretations of the major themes and issues currently being discussed by scholars of Black America. Under the editorial direction of Manning Marable, Souls brings together intellectuals from both traditional academe and the Black community to engage in a critical dialogue about contemporary problems and challenges facing Black America today.

Studies in Travel Writing

Editor: Tim Youngs, Nottingham Trent University, UK

Volume 15, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1364-5145, Online ISSN: 1755-7550

Founded in 1997 by Tim Youngs, Studies in Travel Writing is an international, refereed journal dedicated to research on travel texts and to scholarly approaches to them. Unrestricted by period or region of study, the journal allows for specific contexts of travel writing to be established and for common or enduring features to be identified. It welcomes contributions from within, between or across academic disciplines; from senior scholars and from those at the start of their careers. It also publishes original interviews with travel writers, special themed issues, and book reviews.

Third World Quarterly

LISTED IN THE THOMSON REUTERS SOCIAL SCIENCES CITATION INDEX®

Editor: Shahid Qadir, Royal Holloway, University of London, UK

Volume 32, 10 issues per year

Print ISSN: 0143-6597, Online ISSN: 1360-2241

Third World Quarterly (TWQ) is the leading journal of scholarship and policy in the field of international studies. For three decades it has set the agenda on development discourses of the global debate. As the most influential academic journal covering the emerging worlds, TWQ is at the forefront of analysis and commentary on fundamental issues of global concern. TWQ examines all the issues that affect the many Third Worlds and is not averse to publishing provocative and exploratory articles, especially if they have the merit of opening up emerging areas of research that have not been given sufficient attention.

World Art

NEW IN 2011

Editors: George Lau, Sainsbury Research Unit for the Arts of Africa, Oceania and the Americas, UK, Daniel Rycroft, School of World Art Studies and Museology, UK and Veronica Sekules, Sainsbury Centre for Visual Arts, UK, all at University of East Anglia, UK

Volume 1, 2 issues per year

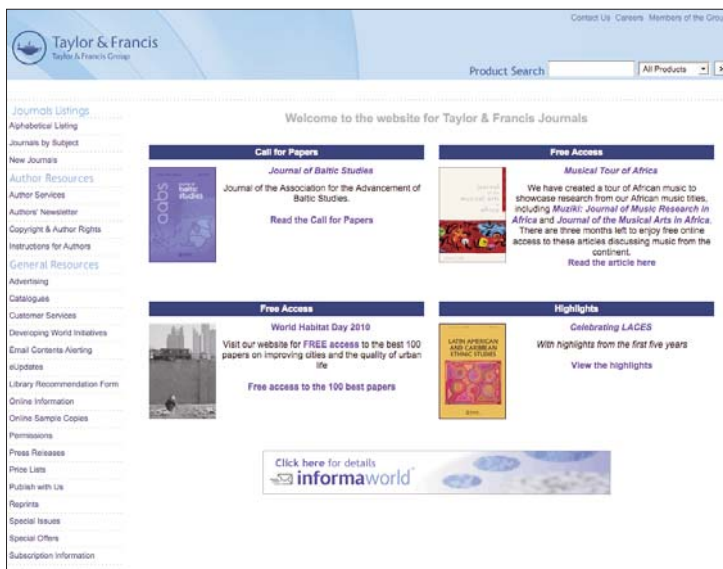

Print ISSN: 2150-0894, Online ISSN: 2150-0908

Art is a global phenomenon. Through art people remake themselves and their worlds, while commenting on their values and beliefs. Making, using and learning from artworks is fundamental to human social life and sensory engagement. World Art encourages critical reflection at the intersections of theory, method and practice, providing a forum for redefining the concept of art for scholars, students and practitioners, for rethinking artistic and interpretive categories and for addressing cultural translation of art practices, canons and discourses. It promotes innovative and comparative approaches for studying human creativity, past and present.

BOOKS OF RELATED INTEREST

African Studies Titles

Europe and Tunisia Democratization via Association

Brieg Powel, University of Plymouth, UK and Larbi Sadiki, University of Exeter, UK

This book is concerned with EU democracy promotion inside Tunisia, examining democratization via association in particular. This analysis of the EU-Tunisia dynamic is the first comprehensive study of the effects of the Union's Mediterranean democracy promotion strategy on a single recipient state.

April 2010: 234x156: 212pp
Hb: 978-0-415-49789-3: £75.00

Money in the Middle East and North Africa

Monetary Policy Frameworks and Strategies

Edited by David Cobham, Heriot-Watt University, UK and Ghassan Dibeh, Lebanese American University in Byblos, Lebanon

Building on the editors' earlier book, Monetary Policy and Central Banking in the Middle East and North Africa, this book emphasises monetary policy strategies and frameworks. It fills an important gap providing multi-country and single-country studies on monetary policy in post-civil war Lebanon, Egypt, Jordan, the Palestinian Territory and Turkey.
