ARGUMENT & COMPUTATION NEW FOR 2010

EDITORS:

Chris Reed, School of Computing, University of Dundee, UK
Floriana Grasso, Dept. of Computer Science, University of Liverpool, UK
Iyad Rahwan, Faculty of Informatics, British University in Dubai, UAE & School of Informatics, University of Edinburgh, UK
Guillermo Simari, Dept. of Computer Science and Engineering, University Nacional del Sur, Argentina

Volume 1, 2010, 3 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1946-2166 Online ISSN: 1946-2174

Argument and Computation aims to promote the interaction and cross-fertilisation between the fields of argumentation theory and computer science. It will be of interest to researchers in the fields of artificial intelligence, multi-agent systems, computer science, logic, philosophy, argumentation theory, psychology, cognitive science, game theory and economics.

The journal will accept full articles, describing novel theoretical or applied research in any of the areas of interest; reviews, condensing and critiquing an appropriate subfield of research; system descriptions, focusing on implementations (typically offering online access or downloadable code) and letters, providing pithy polemic on burning issues.

APPLIED ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF:

Robert Trappl, Austrian Research Institute for Artificial Intelligence, Vienna, Austria

Volume 23, 2009, 10 issues per year

Print ISSN 0883-9514 Online ISSN 1087-6545

Applied Artificial Intelligence addresses concerns in applied research and applications of artificial intelligence (AI). The journal also acts as a medium for exchanging ideas and thoughts about impacts of AI research. Articles highlight advances in uses of AI systems for solving tasks in management, industry, engineering, administration, and education; evaluations of existing AI systems and tools, emphasizing comparative studies and user experiences; and the economic, social, and cultural impacts of AI.

BEHAVIOUR & INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF:

Ahmet Cakir, ERGONOMIC Institute, Berlin, Germany

Volume 28, 2009, 6 issues per year

Print ISSN 0144-929X Online ISSN 1362-3001

Information technology is more than just traditional computers: it includes telecommunications, office systems, industrial automation, robotics and even consumer products. Behaviour & Information Technology (BIT) deals with the human aspects of this technology and reports original research and development on the design, use and impact of information technology in all its forms. Its strictly refereed papers come from a variety of disciplines, including psychology, cognitive science, computer science, ergonomics, sociology, management education and training.

COMPUTER ASSISTED LANGUAGE LEARNING

EDITOR:

Jozef Colpaert, University of Antwerp, Antwerp, Belgium

Volume 22, 2009, 5 issues per year

Print ISSN 0958-8221 Online ISSN 1744-3210

Computer Assisted Language Learning (CALL) is an intercontinental and interdisciplinary journal which leads the field in its dedication to all matters associated with the use of computers in language learning (L1 and L2), teaching and testing. It provides a forum to discuss the discoveries in the field and to exchange experience and information about existing techniques. The scope of the journal is intentionally wide-ranging and embraces a multitude of disciplines.

COMPUTER SCIENCE EDUCATION

EDITORS:

Sally Fincher, University of Kent, Canterbury, UK

Laurie Murphy, Pacific Lutheran University, Washington, USA

Volume 19, 2009, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN 0899-3408 Online ISSN 1744-5175

Computer Science Education aims to publish high-quality papers with a specific focus on teaching and learning within the computing discipline that are accessible and of interest to educators, researchers, and practitioners alike.

CONNECTION SCIENCE

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF:

Noel Sharkey, University of Sheffield, Sheffield, UK

Volume 21, 2009, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN 0954-0091 Online ISSN 1360-0494

Connection Science is an interdisciplinary scientific and technical journal that has, since 1989, been a focus for research on connectionist modelling and neural network learning in both living and artificial systems with an emphasis on cognition and AI. Papers on these traditional themes are still strongly encouraged. However, in response to exciting new work in evolutionary methods and adaptive robotics, its scope has been broadened to include computational research on all biologically inspired adaptive mechanisms as well as all areas of biologically inspired robotics research.

CRYPTOLOGIA

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF:

Craig Bauer, York College of Pennsylvania, USA

Volume 33, 2009, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN 0161-1194 Online ISSN 1558-1586

Cryptologia is the only scholarly journal in the world dealing with the history, the technology, and the effect of the most important form of intelligence in the world today – communications intelligence. It fosters the study of all aspects of cryptology – technical as well as historical and cultural.

CYBERNETICS AND SYSTEMS

EDITOR:

Robert Trappl, Austrian Society for Cybernetics Studies, Vienna, Austria

Volume 40, 2009, 8 issues per year

Print ISSN 0196-9722 Online ISSN 1087-6553

Published in cooperation with the Austrian Society for Cybernetic Studies, Cybernetics and Systems serves as an international forum for the publication of the latest developments in cybernetics. The journal exposes scientists from diverse disciplines to important new methods in cybernetics, while drawing attention to novel applications of these methods to problems from many areas of research.

DIGITAL CREATIVITY

EDITOR:

Lone Malmberg, IT University, Denmark

Volume 19, 2009, 4 issues per year

ISSN Print 1462-6268 Online ISSN 1744-3806

Digital Creativity is a major peer-reviewed journal at the intersection of the creative arts and digital technologies. It carries articles of interest to those involved in the practical task of making or using software for creative purposes. By the term 'creative arts' we include such disciplines as fine art, graphic design, illustration, photography, printmaking, sculpture, 3D design, product design, textile and fashion design, film making, animation, games design, music, dance, drama, creative writing, poetry, interior design, architecture, and urban design. We also address technology-oriented disciplines such as artificial intelligence, computer-supported collaborative work, GPS systems, human-computer interaction, virtual and augmented reality.

EDPACS: THE EDP AUDIT, CONTROL, AND SECURITY NEWSLETTER

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF:

Dan Swanson, Dan Swanson & Associates

Volume 39 & 40, 2009, 12 issues per year

ISSN Print 0736-6981, ISSN Online 1936-1009

Now in its 38th year, EDPACS is the world's longest running IT Audit newsletter. Published monthly, the newsletter supports the audit and control community with highly-regarded guidance in the fields of audit, control, and security. In addition, EDPACS regularly explores current and emerging issues around IT governance. The newsletter provides essential information for managing the integrity of a modern, evolving enterprise. Feature articles by leading practitioners provide advice and guidance on the issues IT auditors, information security practitioners, and other IT managers and staff face today, or will struggle with tomorrow. EDPACS strives to provide pragmatic solutions to current issues through the publication of comprehensive articles which allow various topics to be explored "in depth".

ENTERPRISE INFORMATION SYSTEMS

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF:

Li Xu, Old Dominion University, Norfolk, USA

Volume 3, 2009, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN 1751-7575 Online ISSN 1751-7583

Enterprise Information Systems focuses on both the technical and application aspects of enterprise information systems technology, and the complex and cross-disciplinary problems of enterprise integration that arise in integrating extended enterprises in a contemporary global supply chain environment. Techniques developed in mathematical science, computer science, manufacturing engineering and operations management used in the design or operation of enterprise information systems are also considered.

GEOCARTO INTERNATIONAL

EDITORS:

Kamlesh Lulla, NASA/Johnson Space Centre, USA

M. Duane Nellis, Kansas State University, USA

Volume 24, 2009, 6 issues per year

Print ISSN 1010-6049 Online ISSN 1752-0762

Geocarto International is a professional journal serving the worldwide scientific and user community in the fields of remote sensing, GIS, geoscience and cartography. The Journal is designed:

- To promote multidisciplinary research in and application of remote sensing;
- To enhance international exchange of information on new developments and applications in the field of remote sensing;
- To foster interest in and understanding of remote sensing technology; and
- To encourage the publication of timely papers and research results on remote sensing.

HISTORY AND PHILOSOPHY OF LOGIC

EDITORS-IN-CHIEF:

John Dawson, York, PA, USA

Volker Peckhaus, Universität Paderborn, Germany

Volume 30, 2009, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN 0144-5340 Online ISSN 1464-5149

This journal contains articles, notes and book reviews dealing with the history and philosophy of logic. 'Logic' is understood to be any volume of knowledge which was regarded as logic at the time in question. 'History' refers back to ancient times and also to work in this century; however, the Editor will not accept articles, including review articles, on very recent work on a topic. 'Philosophy' refers to broad and general questions: specialist articles which are now classed as 'philosophical logic' will not be published.

HUMAN COMPUTER INTERACTION: A JOURNAL OF THEORETICAL, EMPIRICAL, AND METHODOLOGICAL ISSUES OF USER SCIENCE AND OF SYSTEM DESIGN

EDITOR

Thomas P. Moran, IBM Almaden Research Center, California, USA

Volume 24, 2009, 4 issues per year

ISSN Print 0737-0024 ISSN Online 1532-7051

An interdisciplinary journal reporting on and helping to define the issues that challenge researchers in a rapidly growing field, Human-Computer Interaction publishes theoretical, empirical, and methodological articles on user psychology and computer system design as it affects the user. Combining research in cognitive science, computer science, and psychology, this journal profiles new advances in the field and points out directions for future research.

Seeking to foster a scientific understanding of the behavior of computer users – programmers and nonprogrammers, experts and novices – with an emphasis on the cognitive aspects, the journal focuses beyond the individual users to explore the social and organizational contexts of user communities.

EDITOR:

Kamesh Namuduri, Wichita State University, USA

Volume 18, 2009, Bimonthly

Print ISSN 1939-3555 Online ISSN 1939-3547

Information Security Journal: A Global Perspective is a highly influential insider's review dealing with the ever-changing security environment and its inherent challenges. It provides essential information for managing the evolving enterprise, with detailed articles on emerging technologies, current trends and innovative solutions. The Journal's audience is comprised of dedicated professionals charged with implementing security programs, as well as those who create and enforce policies and procedures.

INFORMATION SYSTEMS MANAGEMENT

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF:

Janice Sipior, Villanova University, Villanova, USA

Volume 26, 2009, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN 1058-0530 Online ISSN 1934-8703

Now in its 26th year, Information Systems Management (ISM) is the on-going exchange of academic research, best practices, and insights based on managerial experience. The Journal's goal is to advance the practice of information systems management through this exchange. To meet this goal, each issue of the Journal features themed papers examining a particular topic. In addition to themed papers, the Journal regularly publishes papers on other IS management topics.

INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF COMPUTER MATHEMATICS

Volume 86, 2009, 12 issues per year

Print ISSN 0020-7160 Online ISSN 1029-0265

Section A: Computer Systems: Theory

This section contains work concerning research and development in computer systems and the theory of computing in general.

Section B: Computational Methods: Application

This section publishes original work concerning numerical and mathematical techniques that are of interest to computer users in the fields of numerical analysis, mathematical software and applied mathematics. Papers that describe and analyse new numerical techniques for various applied mathematical problems are welcome. Papers that provide improved analyses of existing numerical algorithms are also welcome.

INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF DISTRIBUTED SENSOR NETWORKS FREQUENCY INCREASE!

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF:

S. S. Iyengar, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, USA

Volume 5, 2009, 6 issues per year

Print ISSN 1550-1329 Online ISSN 1550-1477

International Journal of Distributed Sensor Networks is an essential medium for the exchange of information regarding the impact of distributed sensor network research. This Journal publishes research that impacts the development of high performance computing solutions to problems arising from the complexities of these sensor network systems. Articles highlight advances in uses of distributed sensor network systems for solving computational tasks in manufacturing, engineering, and environmental systems.

INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF ELECTRONICS

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF:

Ian Hunter, University of Leeds, Leeds, UK

Volume 96, 2009, 12 issues per year

Print ISSN 0020-7217 Online ISSN 1362-3060

International Journal of Electronics publishes original papers in experimental and theoretical aspects of electronics. The wide scope encompasses analogue and digital circuit design, microwave circuits and systems, optoelectronic circuits, photovoltaics, semiconductor devices, sensor technology, transport in electronic materials, VLSI technology and device processing. The journal also recognizes the importance of emerging technologies and encourages papers on new areas, such as electronics for micromachines, mesoscopic devices, molecular electronics, superconducting electronics and vacuum microelectronics.

INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF GEOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION SCIENCE CONTENT INCREASE!

EDITOR:

Brian Lees, University of New South Wales, Australia

Volume 23, 2009, 12 issues per year

Print ISSN 1365-8816 Online ISSN 1362-3087

The aim of this interdisciplinary and international journal is to provide a forum for the exchange of original ideas, techniques, approaches and experiences in the rapidly growing fields of geographical information science (GIS) and geocomputation. It is intended to interest those who design, implement and use systems for monitoring, modeling, planning and policy-making. Published research covers innovative applications of geographic information in natural resources, social systems and the built environment, and developments in computer science, cartography, surveying, geography and engineering in both developed and developing countries.

INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF HUMAN-COMPUTER INTERACTION

EDITORS:

Julie A. Jacko, Georgia Institute of Technology and Emory University, Georgia, USA

Gavriel Salvendy, Purdue University, West Lafayette, USA

Volume 25, 2009, 8 issues per year

ISSN Print 1044-7318, Online ISSN 1532-7590

The International Journal of Human-Computer Interaction addresses the cognitive, social, health, and ergonomic aspects of work with computers. It also emphasizes both the human and computer science aspects of the effective design and use of computer interactive systems. The journal presents original research both in the general aspects of interface design and in the special application of interface design in a variety of diversified leisure and work activities.

INTERNATIONAL REVIEW OF LAW, COMPUTERS & TECHNOLOGY

EDITOR:

Kenneth V. Russell

Volume 23, 2009, 3 issues per year

Print ISSN 1360-0869 Online ISSN 1364-6885

International Review of Law, Computers & Technology is an international review devoted to the study of both the principles and practices bearing on the interaction of computers, other new technologies, and the law. The rapid advances made by technology are radically changing the face of our society. New media now exist in areas such as the creation and the distribution of information and entertainment. They must still be governed by law but which laws are relevant, and which new laws need to be established?

JOURNAL OF INTELLIGENT TRANSPORTATION SYSTEMS: TECHNOLOGY, PLANNING, AND OPERATIONS

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF:

Asad Khattak, Old Dominion University, Norfolk, USA

Volume 13, 2009, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN 1547-2450 Online ISSN 1547-2442

Journal of Intelligent Transportation Systems is devoted to scholarly research on the development, planning, management, operation, and evaluation of intelligent transportation systems. The journal is particularly interested in research that leads to the development of such systems and improved planning and operation of the transportation system through the application of these new technologies. The journal also publishes papers that add to the scientific understanding of ITS impacts on accessibility, congestion, pollution, safety, security, noise, and energy and resource consumption.

JOURNAL OF LOCATION BASED SERVICES

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF:

Jonathan Raper, City University, London, UK

Volume 3, 2009, 4 issues per year

ISSN Print 1748-9725, ISSN Online 1748-9733

The aim of this interdisciplinary and international journal is to provide a forum for the exchange of original ideas, techniques, designs and experiences in the rapidly growing field of location based services on networked mobile devices. It is intended to interest those who design, implement and deliver location based services in a wide range of contexts. Published research will span the field from location based computing and next-generation interfaces through telecom location architectures to business models and the social implications of this technology. The diversity of content echoes the extended nature of the chain of players required to make location based services a reality. Hence the journals aim is to bridge the research undertaken in industry and academia and promote communication amongst all in this diverse and rapidly growing sector.

JOURNAL OF INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY AND POLITICS

EDITOR:

Dr. Stuart W. Shulman, *University of Massachusetts
Amherst, USA*

Volume 6, 2009, 4 issues per year
ISSN: 1933-1681 Online ISSN: 1933-169X

The Journal of Information Technology & Politics examines how information technology (IT) impacts politics and government, how politics and government influence the development and use of IT, and how IT can be used to advance research and education, particularly in political science.

JOURNAL OF CONSUMER HEALTH ON THE INTERNET

EDITOR:

M. Sandra Wood, Pennsylvania State University, USA

Volume 13, 2009, 4 issues per year
ISSN: 1539-8285 Online ISSN: 1539-8293

The Journal of Consumer Health on the Internet is the only professional peer-reviewed journal devoted to locating consumer health information via the Internet. In this journal, librarians and health information providers describe programs and services aimed at helping patients and the general public find the health information they need.

JOURNAL OF ELECTRONIC RESOURCES IN MEDICAL LIBRARIES

EDITOR:

Elizabeth Connor, The Citadel, South Carolina, USA

Volume 6, 2009, 4 issues per year
ISSN: 1542-4065 Online ISSN: 1542-4073

The Journal of Electronic Resources in Medical Libraries is a peer-reviewed professional journal devoted to the access, evaluation, and management of electronic resources in the medical library environment. This journal will be an essential resource for academic medical school libraries, hospital libraries, and other health sciences libraries.

INTERNET REFERENCE SERVICES QUARTERLY

EDITOR:

Christopher N. Cox, *University of Wisconsin- Eau Claire,
USA*

Volume 14, 2009, 4 issues per year
ISSN: 1087-5301 Online ISSN: 1540-4749

Internet Reference Services Quarterly tackles the tough job of keeping librarians up to date with the latest developments in Internet referencing and librarianship. This peer-reviewed quarterly journal is designed to function as a comprehensive information source librarians can turn to and count on for keeping up-to-date on emerging technological innovations, while emphasizing theoretical, research, and practical applications of Internet-related information services, sources, and resources.

JOURNAL OF LIBRARY METADATA

EDITOR:

Jeffrey Beall, University of Colorado-Denver, USA

Volume 9, 2009, 4 issues per year
ISSN: 1938-6389 Online ISSN: 1937-5034

The Journal of Library Metadata is the exclusive forum for the latest research, innovations, news, and expert views about all aspects of metadata applications in libraries and about the role of metadata in information retrieval. This focused journal comprehensively discusses practical, applicable information that libraries can effectively use in their own information discovery environments. Specialized knowledge, the latest technology, and top research are presented pertaining specifically to evolving metadata use in libraries
