Philosophy Journals from Routledge

WELCOME to the Routledge Philosophy Journals catalogue. Routledge, the social sciences and humanities division of Taylor & Francis, is dedicated to the dissemination of academic and professional information, utilising skills and expertise honed since the company first began publishing learned journals in 1798. The provision of new, innovative products and services, delivered at the cutting edge of technology, is central to Routledge’s publishing ethos. Today, we publish 1,562 scholarly journals in association with 460 societies and institutions.

We hope that you enjoy browsing this catalogue, and don’t forget that free online sample copies and table-of-contents alerts for all these journals are available on our website: www.tandfonline.com

Angelaki: Journal of the Theoretical Humanities

General Editor: Pelagia Goulimari, Oxford, UK
Editor: Gerard Greenway, Oxford, UK
Angelaki: Journal of the Theoretical Humanities was established to provide an international forum for vanguard work in the theoretical humanities. In itself a contentious category, ‘theoretical humanities’ represents the productive nexus of work in the disciplinary fields of literary criticism and theory, philosophy, and cultural studies. The journal is dedicated to the refreshing of intellectual coordinates, and to the challenging and vivifying process of re-thinking.

Australasian Journal of Philosophy

The journal of the Australasian Association of Philosophy

Editor: Stewart Candlish, University of Western Australia, Australia
The Australasian Journal of Philosophy is one of the world’s leading philosophy journals. Founded in 1923, it has been continuously published ever since. It is recognized as one of the best in the analytic tradition, but is not narrow in what it regards as worthy of acceptance. In addition to Articles and Discussion Notes, the journal publishes Book Reviews and Book Notes as well as occasional commissioned Critical Notices.

Asian Philosophy: The International Journal of Philosophical Traditions of the East

Editors: Brian Carr, University of Exeter, UK and Indira Mahalingam Carr, University of Surrey, UK
Asian Philosophy is an international journal concerned with such philosophical traditions as Indian, Chinese, Japanese, Buddhist and Islamic. The purpose of the journal is to bring these rich and varied traditions to a worldwide academic audience. It publishes articles in the central philosophical areas of metaphysics, philosophy of mind, epistemology, logic, moral and social philosophy, as well as in applied philosophical areas such as aesthetics and jurisprudence. It also publishes articles comparing Eastern and Western philosophical traditions.

British Journal for the History of Philosophy

The journal of the British Society for the History of Philosophy

Editor: Michael Beaney, University of York, UK
The BJHP publishes articles and reviews on the history of philosophy from the ancient world to the end of the twentieth century. The journal is designed to foster understanding of the history of philosophy through studying the writings of past philosophers in their context and with sensitivity to issues of both philosophical argumentation and historical development. Although focusing on the recognized classics, a feature of the journal is to give attention to less major figures and to influences and relationships that are often overlooked. Articles cover the history of Western philosophy, although articles that explore connections to other traditions are also encouraged.

Philosophical Psychology

Editors: William Bechtel, University of California, San Diego, USA and Cees van Leeuwen, University of Leuven, Belgium

Philosophical Psychology is an international journal devoted to developing and strengthening the links between philosophy and the psychological sciences, both as basic sciences and as employed in applied settings, by publishing original, peer-reviewed contributions to this expanding field of study and research.

Published articles deal with issues that arise in the cognitive and brain sciences, and in areas of applied psychology. Emphasis is placed on articles concerned with cognitive and perceptual processes, models of psychological processing, including neural network and dynamical systems models, and relations between psychological theories and accounts of neural underpinnings or environmental context.

Social Epistemology

A Journal of Knowledge, Culture and Policy

Executive Editor: James H. Collier, Virginia Tech, USA

Social Epistemology provides a forum for philosophical and social scientific inquiry that incorporates the work of scholars from a variety of disciplines who share a concern with the production, assessment and validation of knowledge. The journal covers both empirical research into the origination and transmission of knowledge and normative considerations which arise as such research is implemented, serving as a guide for directing contemporary knowledge enterprises.

Ethics Journals

Ethics, Policy & Environment

Editors: Benjamin Hale, University of Colorado, Boulder, USA and Andrew Light, George Mason University, USA

Ethics, Policy & Environment offers scholarly articles, reviews, critical exchanges, and short reflections on all aspects of environmental ethics, environmental philosophy, and the normative dimensions of environmental policy.

While Ethics, Policy & Environment centers on environmental ethics and policy, its substantive coverage is wider. Authors have been concerned with a range of subjects, such as applied environmental ethics, animal welfare, environmental justice, development ethics, sustainability, and cultural values relevant to environmental concerns.
