

Invitation to Submit Disability & Society - Special Issue 2009

'Brave New World?' Disability and the 21st Century: Challenges and Solutions

Wherever you live society is involved in rapid and continual change, the consequences of which are being experienced locally, nationally and globally. In relation to the issue of disability these changes are generating new challenges of a conceptual, empirical, ethical and pragmatic nature. This special Issue provides the opportunity to share research and critical thinking on these fundamentally important issues, which will increase knowledge and understanding of the barriers and possibilities for change.

Routledge would like to invite you to submit your article for this Special Issue of Disability & Society on:

- * Pollution, famine and global warming
- * Eugenics, euthanasia and bio-medicine
- * Ageing, life course and aspirations
- * Social and environmental production of impairments
- * Marketisation, global inequalities and poverty
- * Technological developments and the networked society
- * New exclusions, risks and possibilities
- * The speed, rapidity and cumulative impact of change
- * The struggle, strategies and outcomes of change

Manuscripts must be a maximum of 7,000 words (including bibliography) and be submitted before 1st August 2008 in hard copy format. Three copies of the paper (including an abstract of 100 – 150 words on a separate sheet) should be submitted to:

The Editor, Disability and Society, c/o Mrs Helen Oliver, School of Education, University of Sheffield, 388 Glossop Road, Sheffield, S10 2JA, United Kingdom
