

Routledge Taylor & Francis Publishing

Routledge ONLINE Studies in the Olympic and Paralympic Games 2012

A Special Issue from:

The International and Multi-disciplinary Journal

'Reflective Practice'

CALL FOR PAPERS

'This will be a multimedia issue, so contributions can include audio and video material'

'Reflective Practice' is the leading refereed journal in its field. It seeks to link reflection with high performance. We wish to celebrate the 2012 Olympics & Paralympics in London, UK and contribute to its legacy, by making a contribution to the Routledge Online themed journal Special Issues.

We invite papers from any discipline or profession, from any part of the world, to contribute to the journal's theme called:

'Coaching for Performance - Realising the Olympic Dream'

The Special Issue will include three reflective sub-themes. They are;

The Visionary Coach:

This will include contributions that reflect the coach's Olympic dreams. It will be about hope, ambition and imagining what is possible.

The Coach-in-action:

This includes contributions from coaches, at all levels, about their work as they enable others to realise their Olympic dream, now and in the future.

The Performers:

This reflective sub-theme will contain contributions from those who work with coaches striving for success and high performance. It will be about commitment, optimism, performance management and resilience.

This Special Issue will seek to publish practical, creative, and important contributions to the theme, 'Coaching for Performance - Realising the Olympic Dream'.

Expressions of Interest

'This will be a multimedia issue, so contributions can include audio and video material'

As we are anticipating considerable interest in this theme, we invite Expressions of Interest in the form of a 300 word Abstract to be submitted to Sarah Lee (e-mail:

Sarah.Lee@hartpury.ac.uk) by 31st May, 2011.