International Economic Journal is a peer-reviewed, scholarly journal devoted to publishing high-quality papers and sharing original economics research worldwide. It invites theoretical and empirical papers in the broadly-defined development and international economics areas. Papers in other sub-disciplines of economics (e.g., labor, public, money, macro, industrial organizations, health, environment and history) are also welcome if they contain international or cross-national dimensions in their scope and/or implications.

Since 1987 the journal has been published quarterly. Articles recently published include:

The Social Cost of Foreign Exchange Reserves
Dani Rodrik

Demand for Education in China
Gregory C. Chow and Yan Shen

The Growing Current Account Surpluses in East Asia: the effect of dark matter assets
Ricardo Hausmann, Maya Horii and Federico Sturzenegger
