

The Journal of Crime & Justice

Call for Papers

The Journal of Crime & Justice, the official publication of the Midwestern Criminal Justice Association, is a peer-reviewed journal featuring original scholarly work in the area of crime and criminal justice. Published three times a year JC&J welcomes quantitative and qualitative articles, and theoretical commentaries. Special topic issues are also welcomed.

Prospective authors should send a cover letter with contact information and the manuscript electronically to Michael J. Leiber, Editor, mjleiber@usf.edu.

Interested in submitting? Need Inspiring?
... Find out what others have been writing about:

Recent Articles:

Jeff Bouffard, Sam Houston University:

"In the heat of the moment": mediating versus moderating relationships between sexual arousal and perceived sanctions"

Michael Gizzi, Illinois State University:

"Methamphetamine and its impact on the criminal justice system: a three-year examination of felony drug filings"

Andrew J. Myer, Viterbo University, and Mitchell B. Chamlin, Texas State University: "Aggregation bias and the benign neglect hypothesis"

Meredith G.F. Worthen, University of Oklahoma:

"Gender differences in parent-child bonding: implications for understanding the gender gap in delinquency"

Recent Topic Issue:

Dr. Eugene Paoline, University of Central Florida and William Terrill, Michigan State University, editors on Police use of force: Varying perspectives

Forthcoming Topic Issues:

Dr. Wesley Jennings, University of South Florida, editor on Sex offending;

Dr. Faye Taxman, George Mason University, editor on Probation, corrections, and treatment;

Dr. Michael Lynch, University of South Florida, editor on the Political economy