

Routledge Super Author

February 2012 - Colin S. Gray

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Professor Colin S. Gray
*Director of the Centre for Strategic Studies,
Department of Politics and International Relations,
University of Reading, UK*

For a full bio visit: www.reading.ac.uk/spirs

FEATURED ARTICLES

Strategic Thoughts for Defence Planners

Survival

Gaining Compliance: The Theory of Deterrence and its Modern Application

Comparative Strategy

Moral Advantage, Strategic Advantage?

Journal of Strategic Studies

The Future of Land-based Missile Forces

Adelphi series

Technology as a Dynamic of Defence Transformation

Defence Studies

Deterrence and the nature of strategy

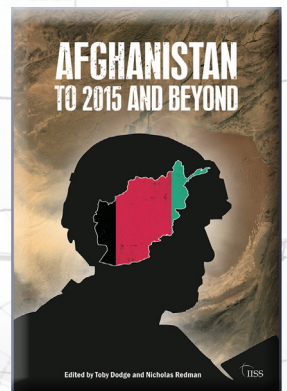

Small Wars & Insurgencies

No good deed shall go unpunished

The International Journal of Human Rights

The True North Strong and Free

The Round Table

Access FREE
articles online

Routledge Super Author

February 2012 - Colin S. Gray

FEATURED ARTICLES

New directions for Strategic Studies?
How can theory help practice?
Security Studies

From Defense Philosophy to Force Planning: The Strategic Forces
Defense & Security Analysis

The Definitions and Assumptions of Deterrence: Questions of Theory and Practice
Journal of Strategic Studies

The Nuclear Winter Thesis and U.S. Strategic Policy
The Washington Quarterly

The MX Debate
Survival

A New Debate on Ballistic Missile Defence
Survival

Nuclear Strategy: The Debate Moves On
The RUSI Journal

Villains, Victims, and Sheriffs:
Strategic Studies and Security for an Interwar Period
Comparative Strategy

The role of Nuclear Forces in U.S. National Security Strategy: Implications of the B-2 Bomber
Stephen Cambone & Colin S. Gray
Comparative Strategy

