Academy of Surgical Research Award Winners 2016

Adreas von Recum Award:
Tracy Ziegelhoffer, SRS, BS, LATg
Envigo
East Millstone, NJ

The von Recum award is given to a member of the academy in recognition of outstanding service to the Academy of Surgical Research as determined by the Academy’s Nominating Committee (comprised of past presidents of the academy).

Michael DeLeo Award:
Shawn Kozlov, LATg
NIH/NHLBI
Bethesda, MD

Poster Title: Surgical Approach to Creating an Adjustable Fractional Flow Reserve (FFR) in a Pig for MRI Perfusion Studies

The Michael DeLeo award is given to the author/presenter of the poster which receives the highest score as determined by a panel of judges at the annual ASR meeting.

Barry Sauer Award:

SRS
Michael Horsman, SRS
US Army Edgewood Chemical Biological
Gunpowder, MD

SRT
Jill Johnson, SRT, ALAT
Ricerca Biosciences
Concorda, OH

SRA
Nina Bishop, SRT
University of Mass Medical School
Worcester, MA
The Barry Sauer awards are given to the individuals who earn the highest scores on each of the three certification exams.

Jacob Markowitz Award

Dr. James Cook, DVM, PhD, OTSC
University of Missouri
Columbia, MO

The Jacob Markowitz award is given to an individual who has made significant contributions to the field of surgical research as determined by the Academy’s Nominating Committee (comprised of past presidents of the academy).