

FREE Access to Special Articles from PRIMUS: Problems, Resources, and Issues in Mathematics Undergraduate Studies!

Editor-in-Chief: Joanna A. Ellis-Monaghan,
Saint Michael's College, Vermont

The Editor-in-Chief of PRIMUS: Problems, Resources, and Issues in Mathematics Undergraduate Studies is pleased to offer FREE access to the following articles:

- Most Downloaded: Peer Instruction in Physics and Mathematics, Scott Pilzer
- From a Special Issue: A Tale of Two Masses, Kurt Bryan
- Editors' Choice: Creating Games from Mathematical Problems, Klára Pintér
- From the Archive: See The Light! A Nice Application of Calculus to Chemistry, Stuart Boersma, Garrett McGowan

Simply click on the links for each article to view them for FREE.

Your article could be featured next! PRIMUS: Problems, Resources, and Issues in Mathematics Undergraduate Studies is now accepting manuscript submissions. The journal is a refereed publication devoted to dialogue and exchange of ideas among those interested in teaching undergraduate mathematics.

Visit <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/upri> to submit your manuscript today.

To learn more and sign up for content alerts, visit www.tandfonline.com/UPRI.