

Forthcoming Contents

Symposium: Critical Terrorism Studies: Foundations, Issues, Challenges

Editor's Introduction – negotiating stormy waters

The elephant in the room: a response to John Horgan and Michael J. Boyle

Ruth Blakeley

Terrorism and taboo: an anthropological perspective on political violence against civilians

Jeffrey Sluka

Problems with the critical studies approach to the study of terrorism

Leonard Weinberg and William Eubank

Critical terrorism studies: an activist scholar perspective

Eric Herring

ARTICLES

Visualising violence: legitimacy and authority in the 'war on terror'

Laura J. Shepherd

Screening terror: Hollywood, the United States and the construction of danger

Klaus Dodds

Times of terror: writing temporality into the war on terror

Lee Jarvis

War and peace: negotiating meaning in Islam

Robert P. Barnidge, Jr.

RESEARCH NOTES

Terrorists, scholars and ordinary people: confronting terrorism studies with field experiences

Harmonie Toros

CONVERSATIONS IN CRITICAL STUDIES ON TERRORISM

Counter-terrorism and communities: an interview with Robert Lambert

Richard Jackson