

CALL FOR FURTHER EDITORS AND MEMBERS OF THE EDITORIAL BOARD

JOURNAL OF GENDER STUDIES

Since the Journal of Gender Studies furthered its output to four issues per year, we are seeking to expand our board and particularly our number of editors.

The work of editor is rewarding though hard-work (we deal with over 100 papers per year). We are looking for academics, policy-makers and researchers in the field of Gender Studies who have an understanding of research methodologies and an engagement in the range of academic disciplines that contribute to the field.

The journal promotes itself as an inter-disciplinary journal due to the nature of the academic subject and it is essential that new editors or editorial board members can edit accepted papers so that their cross-disciplinary nature is comprehensible to all users of the journal.

We are always keen to recruit referees in the field.

Expressions of interest (either in an editorial capacity or as a referee) should be forwarded to the Chair to the Editorial Board (Dr B Tirohl): blu_tirohl@hotmail.com
