

POSTGRADUATE STUDENT COMPETITION 2007

Sponsored by Routledge

ENTER NOW!

British Journal of Guidance & Counselling is pleased to announce its 2007 competition for postgraduate students sponsored by Routledge.

The journal invites papers to be submitted by postgraduate students, based on current or very recent empirical work or original theoretical work. Entries should focus on themes typically covered by the journal; for example, guidance of young people or adults, career counselling, counselling, psychotherapy and supervision. Papers should be written to accord with the guidelines for contributors to the journal. These may be found in copies of the journal or at the journal's dedicated website:

www.informaworld.com/bjgc

where further information on the journal's scope and the competition details may also be found. Submissions of sufficiently high quality will (subject to the usual process of peer review) be accepted for publication in the journal.

 Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group

PRIZE DETAILS

1st Prize: £300 plus one year's subscription to the journal and £100 Taylor & Francis book vouchers.

Runner's Up Prize: £100 cash plus £100 Taylor & Francis book vouchers.

ENTRY INSTRUCTIONS

- Entries should be received by 31 October 2007.
- All entries should be sent to Dr Malcolm Cross
Department of Psychology, City University,
Northampton Square, London, EC1V 0HB, UK
- Email: M.C.Cross@city.ac.uk
- Applicants should mark their submissions 'Student Competition' and state briefly their programme and place of study.
- Entrants are reminded that they should write in a way that conforms to the journal's style notes and that failure to do so may mean that their submission is not considered.

Please see reverse of card and website for rules of entry.

BRITISH JOURNAL OF GUIDANCE & COUNSELLING

POSTGRADUATE STUDENT COMPETITION 2007

Sponsored by Routledge

RULES OF ENTRY

- Papers should not be published or submitted for publication elsewhere.
- A postgraduate student is defined as a student currently undertaking postgraduate study, or as a student who has registered for postgraduate studies in the previous two years.
- The judges reserve the right not to award the prize if the entries are of insufficiently high quality.
- All entries must conform to the instructions for contributors as given on the journal website at www.informaworld.com/bjgc
- The papers will be subject to the usual process of peer review and the prize paper and any others will only be published in the British Journal of Guidance & Counselling if they are of sufficiently high quality.