

British Journal of Guidance & Counselling

Co-Editor

Applications are invited for the post of Co-Editor (Counselling) of the British Journal of Guidance & Counselling (BJGC). The journal, currently in its 37th volume, is one of the best regarded in its subject area. It is published quarterly and contains articles with an international authorship and relevance on counselling, psychotherapy, pastoral care, educational and career guidance, and career management.

One of the main tasks of the Co-Editor is to solicit and receive contributions for the journal and process these through peer review, and make the final decision on publication. The Co-Editor is also responsible for liaison with the Editorial Board and Editorial Advisory Panel and other aspects of journal maintenance.

Some financial support is available to the Co-Editor.

For more information about the journal, please visit our web site, hosted by our publishers, Routledge Taylor & Francis, at <http://www.tandf.co.uk/journals/bjgc>.

Closing date for applications is 30th October 2009.
