

Ethnic and Racial Studies would like to extend sincere appreciation to all our referees. We would like to thank you for sharing your time, effort and professional expertise in carrying out peer-review on ERS manuscripts.

As our journal goes from strength to strength with submissions increasing year on year, we acknowledge that its continuing success depends on our referees' ongoing enthusiasm to support us with their high standards."

Referee Benefits:

- All ERS referees are provided with a 30% discount on Routledge books via either an electronic or hard copy discount leaflet
- Reviews can be done anytime, anywhere with internet access as we have an online review process hosted by Manuscript Central. Reviewers are provided with an electronic link direct to an article and score sheet. No need to remember usernames and passwords.
- All our referees are informed of the outcome of each article and other referee's comments

Referee Comments:

- "Many thanks. I am happy to see that my comments were on the same line as the other referee I look forward to revising and resubmitting this paper."
- "Thank you, I always appreciate these follow up emails."
- "This is a useful closing of the circle - so often one is asked to referee papers and never hear of the end result. This is helpful."
- "Thanks, very useful to read the other referee's opinion, and also to know your decision."
- "Thank you for letting me know the outcome of the review."
- "Thank you very much for sharing these comments with me. This is a very useful feedback - as reviewers we often wonder about what happens to various papers that we comment upon. It is also instructive to see how our own opinion is placed vis-a-vis the assessments of our colleagues. Thank you again."
- "Thanks so much, Amanda. It makes a difference to know what happened to our work put into reviewing."
- "Thanks a lot for taking your time to inform me of the result! This care increases my good view of your journal!"
