The Journal of Addictions Nursing, the official journal of the International Nurses Society on Addictions (IntNSA), is a peer reviewed, quarterly, international journal publishing original articles on current research, issues, practices, and innovations as they relate to the field of addictions. Contributions to the journal come from a wide and varied audience including professional nurses and other healthcare professionals engaged in treatment, prevention, education, research, and consultation. Each issue includes these important sections:

- * Perspectives features points of view and commentaries
- * Resource Watch provides summaries and critiques of books, videos, and CAI
- * Innovative Roles examines unique roles that nurses in addictions are implementing
- * Research Reviews offers summaries and critiques of research studies in the field
- * Pharmacology Update provides data on selective drugs of abuse, and the latest information on treatment medications
- * Clinical Reviews features summaries of clinical articles from a broad variety of publication sources
- * Web Watch highlights a themed issue and provides internet sources for obtaining vital web-based information.
