

Behaviour & Information Technology

Video Editorials by Tom Stewart, Founding Editor

November 2011 Vol. 30 Issue 5 – 'Virtual Communities and Mobile Devices'

Transcript:

There are two themes in this issue – virtual communities and mobile devices. In this editorial, Tom explores some of the benefits and pitfalls when both themes come together.

June 2011 Vol. 30 Issue 3 – 'Usability is more than Just the Web'

Transcript:

The June 2011 issue primarily deals with more general software and system development a welcome reminder that usability is critical to all software and systems, not just the web. This is a podcast of Tom's editorial introduction to the papers.

March 2011 Vol. 30 Issue 2 – 'The Acceptance of Digital Technology and Learning'

Transcript:

Papers in the March 2011 issue look at how digital technology has been accepted over the years, and how its acceptance is now enhancing learning.

November 2010 Vol. 29 Issue 6 – 'Online Communities'

Transcript:

This issue contains research papers on the online community - what motivates people to contribute and how they can provide real benefits to individuals and organisations.

March 2010 Vol. 29 Issue 2 – 'iPad Ergonomics'

Transcript:

This issue contains research papers on physical interaction with devices in light of the recent launch of the iPad.