

Journal of Mathematics and the Arts

Would you like to see colour images of your work in a Journal? Even the possibility of your artwork being on the front cover? If so then Taylor & Francis would like to draw to your attention Journal of Mathematics and the Arts.

Journal of Mathematics and the Arts

This exciting Journal focuses on connections between mathematics and the arts. It publishes articles of interest for readers who are engaged in using mathematics in the creation of works of art, who seek to understand art arising from mathematical or scientific endeavors, or who strive to explore the mathematical implications of artistic works.

The range of topics which fall within the scope of the Journal include:

- Artists' descriptions providing mathematical context, analysis, or insight about their work;
- The exposition of mathematics intended for interdisciplinary mathematics and arts educators and classroom use;
- Mathematical techniques and methodologies of interest to practice-based artists;
- Critical analysis or insight concerning mathematics and art in historical and cultural settings.

The Editor is actively encouraging artist submissions to the Journal, and would be delighted if you and your colleagues would consider contributing suitable artwork and manuscripts for consideration.

The Journal is circulated and promoted around a number of key societies and conferences including the College Art Association and Bridges.

If your artwork is accepted we could also offer dedicated promotion for your article including:

- Recording an interview with you which would be placed as a podcast on the Journal homepage;
- Circulate offprints to selected galleries or other contacts of your choice;
- Provide you with a dedicated promotional business card for your article.

Submissions

Papers for consideration should be sent to the Editor.

Full submission information can be found under the 'Instructions for Authors' tab at www.tandf.co.uk/journals/JMA.
