Welcome to the first issue of the Taylor & Francis Librarians' Newsletter. Our aim is to keep you updated with new initiatives and exciting developments at Taylor & Francis.

Each issue will bring you regular information on pricing, new journal news, bibliographic changes, usage statistics and other issues and will serve as a helpful guide for administrators in your library.

In the first issue we are pleased to announce, amongst other news, our partnership with CrossRef and Google, which will make it easier for your users to source information from our publications.

We hope you find our bulletin a valuable resource in managing your collections. Please do send your suggestions or feedback to us.
