

T&F adds most journals to the 2005 Social Sciences Journal Citation Reports®

Routledge (part of Taylor & Francis Group) added more journals to the Social Sciences Journal Citation Reports® (JCRs®) in 2005 than any other publisher. In total, 11 Routledge journals were added to Social Sciences JCR® coverage, including 4 top 10 titles. Taylor & Francis, Routledge and Informa Healthcare collectively added 18 journals to the Science and Social Sciences JCRs®.

American Journal of Bioethics (AJB) appears in the JCRs® for the first time, with an Impact Factor of 2.509. AJB entered as the top-ranked journal in 3 categories – History & Philosophy of Science (Science Edition), Ethics and Medical Ethics. ‘The American Journal of Bioethics has become the obvious and overwhelming leader among every journal in every relevant category,’ says Professor Glenn McGee, Editor-in-Chief of AJB. ‘The Impact Factor we received has already begun to change everything for us. Routledge and Taylor & Francis made that happen, with a strong commitment to quality publishing, customer service, editorial office support whenever we need it, and first rate aggregation technology.’

The following journals were listed in the 2005 Journal Citation Reports for the first time:

Journal	Impact Factor
American Journal of Bioethics	2.509
Cerebellum	1.762
Coal Preparation	0.297
European Societies	0.417
Ethnos	0.191
Interactive Learning Environments	0.435
International Journal of Green Energy	0.314
International Reviews of Immunology	2.478
Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies	0.485
Journal of Risk Research	0.469
Marine Biology Research	Too young to have an Impact Factor
New Political Economy	0.511
Nicotine and Tobacco Research	2.549
Quantitative Finance	0.818
Social & Cultural Geography	1.645
Stress – the International Journal of the Biology of Stress	2.967
Thinking & Reasoning	0.815
World Journal of Biological Psychiatry	2.800

Taylor & Francis and Routledge now have 451 journals listed in the Science and Social Sciences JCRs®, across subject areas including Geography, Education, Sociology, Planning, Area Studies, Economics, International Relations, Anthropology, Politics, Psychology, Physics, Chemistry, Medicine, Life Science, Mathematics, Engineering and Earth Science.

‘We are delighted that more social science journals from Routledge have been newly added to the Journal Citation Reports® and have gained Impact Factors in 2005 than those from any other publisher’, said Dr David Green, Global Journals Publishing Director. ‘This is a testimony to our innovation strategy, ability to spot emerging trends in the major disciplines, and the hard work of our editors and authors. We will continue to launch new social science journals in response to academic developments.’

‘Our learned society and university partners value our ability to connect their journals with core research networks around the world, particularly in leading edge research, and the high citation levels this creates’, added Dr Green.

Nearly two-thirds of Taylor & Francis, Routledge and Informa Healthcare journals listed in the 2005 JCRs® increased their Impact Factor compared to 2004. More than half of these saw improvements of over 25% and 69 journals now appear in the top 10 of their JCR category. Top ranked journals include Critical Reviews in Food Science and Nutrition, International Journal of Radiation Biology and Ethnicity & Health.

Other highlights include:

- Critical Reviews in Environmental Science and Technology – now 7/140 in Environmental Sciences, up from 30/134 in 2004
- Political Communication – now 4/42 in Communication, up from 22/42 in 2004
- Avian Pathology – now 6/129 in Veterinary Sciences, up from 19/124 in 2004
- Mechanics of Advanced Materials and Structures – now 4/25 in Materials Science, Characterization & Testing, up from 15/23 in 2004
- Feminist Economics – now 3/27 in Women’s Studies, up from 14/27 in 2004

Taylor & Francis Group are also pleased to announce that the following journals have been accepted this year for inclusion in Thomson Scientific Products, including Science Citation Index-Expanded™, Social Sciences Citation Index®, Web of Science® and Current Content Alerts®. These journals should appear with Impact Factors in either the 2007 or 2008 Journal Citation Reports:

Augmentative and Alternative Communication
Clinical & Developmental Immunology
European Accounting Review
European Journal of the History of Economic Thought
European Journal of Sport Science
International Journal of Distributed Sensor Networks
International Journal of Green Energy
Journal of Addictions Nursing
Journal of Biopharmaceutical Statistics
Journal of Dermatological Treatment
Landscape Research
Mathematical Population Studies
Medical Anthropology
Ophthalmic Genetics
Paedagogica Historica
Politikon
Self and Identity

All data from the 2005 Journal Citations Reports® published by Thomson Scientific, 2006