

Lawrence Erlbaum Associates

From January 2008, current content for all titles formerly published by Lawrence Erlbaum Associates (LEA) has been made available on informaworld.

The LEA list is particularly strong in the fields of Education and Behavioral Science, and complements the excellence of the publishing programmes of Routledge and Psychology Press in these fields. Those who subscribe to our current content packages, the Taylor & Francis SSH and ST Libraries, and to our Subject Collections, will benefit from access to this additional content.

Transition Timeline

From March 31st 2008, LEA titles will no longer be available via LEA Online. In order to make the transition to informaworld as smooth as possible we wanted to let you know the steps we are planning to take:

1. Since November 27th we have been dual hosting LEA Online with informaworld. All LEA titles are now available on the informaworld site. We have registered your online access on informaworld. If you do not see LEA titles listed in your subscription entitlement, please contact support@informaworld.com where our online customer services staff will be ready to assist.
2. From January 1st 2008, all new content for the LEA titles will be loaded onto informaworld only. LEA Online will no longer be updated with new content.
3. From March 31st 2008, we will put redirects in place from LEA Online to the informaworld site.

We will send you further updates and reminders between now and March 31st, but for now we advise you to update your catalogue so that you can benefit fully from access to new content during all of 2008. We have put together a list of the former LEA titles, along with their Open URLs which should help you to update your catalogue. This can be found at www.informaworld.com/LEA.

Usage Statistics

Usage statistics from LEA Online will cease to be available after June 30th, so library account managers are encouraged to download statistics from LEA Online before this date.
